

Honor365® Announcing the 9/11 World Trade Center Exhibit via ‘Hero 1’ from The Netherlands to The United States of America

SALT LAKE CITY—Honor365®, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, in coordination with ‘Hero 1,’ a 53’ semi-truck trailer with HVMC Transportation LLC, Fallen Hero Network LLC, and The Honor Network (U.S. Honor Flag) are picking up a 9/11 replica model of the World Trade Center plaza from the Port of Galveston, Texas that arrived from The Netherlands on December 26, 2020 via the Freedom Vessel with American Roll-On Roll-Off Carrier (ARC).

A nationwide exhibit tour begins January 22, 2021 and runs through September 12, 2021 to commemorate the 20th Anniversary of 9/11. The 9/11 replica model was given to Honor365 on behalf of The United State of America by Daan Van Der Steijn, Creator, from Deurne, The Netherlands. The tagline for the full exhibit, “Remembering the One®. Remembering Them All®.”

On January 8, 2021, at 0730, ‘Hero 1’ will enter the Port of Galveston to load the 9/11 Exhibit at 0800. Port of Galveston Police Department along with other agencies, to include Texas DPS, are going to provide a police escort in and out of the port and escort Hero 1 back to the mainland. Texas DPS will provide an escort from the Galveston Causeway Bridge to the North side of Houston and continue the escort to the North side of Dallas.

On January 9, 2021, ‘Hero 1’ is expected to cross the Utah border via Green River, UT at approximately 0800, then Price, UT at approximately 0900, then Spanish Fork at approximately 1030 under police escort to a secure warehouse located at 1510 S 3600 W, Salt Lake City, Utah. Should you need to secure the exact location, contact Cody Cross at 385-313-7891.

Honor365’s mission is to provide resource and referral support to veterans, first responders, and their families. The vision: A world without suicide. Honor365’s pillars include education, employment, healthcare, and housing.

Honor365 proceeds from this nationwide tour are dedicated to supporting mental wellness for veterans, first responders, and their families. It is anticipated that the exhibit will help heal and unite the world in numerous ways.

“We understand first responder and veteran suicide is of great concern, and that the world has gone through so much recently,” said Dr. Ninzel Rasmuson, Founder of Honor365. “From firefighters, law enforcement, EMS, 911 dispatchers, veterans, and our troops, and many others who are on the front line of helping those in need, the stress from this line of work can take its toll. Honor365 will continue to support the wellness of those we serve by helping those who help us every day.”

We invite you to support the 9/11 Exhibit to follow our progress, make plans to visit the exhibit, and donate to this worthwhile cause by going to <https://honor365.org>, and following Honor365 on Facebook, and Instagram @honorvet365.
